YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF THE 4TH CONGRESS.

Regulating Custom Duties on Certain Articles—Communication from Secretary of War to Make Application—Continuation—Custom Clerks—Full Report

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The President pro tem. laid before the Senate a communication from the Secretary of War recommending the appropriation of $70,000 to continue on service seventy clerks engaged in preparing reports to expedite the settlement of pension applications and who otherwise will have to be discharged on the 30th next.

At the expiration of the morning hour the Senate concurred in the House amendment to the joint resolution authorizing the President to call the International Sanitary Conference. The amendment includes among countries from which delegates are to be invited, those subject to cholera.

The Senate concurred in the consideration of the Kellogg-Spoofford resolutions.

Hill, of Georgia, speaking in their support. He purposed, he said, to discuss chiefly the legal aspects of the case, going into facts only so far as necessary to illustrate principles.

It was contended that a State legislature was chosen in Louisiana in 1873.

The question to be determined then is which body claiming to be the legislature of that State was such legislature in fact.

If the true legislature chose spoofford Kellogg was not entitled to its seat. When then is a state legislature?

It was contended that it was not so but if it was she didn't want any more butter.

The Veto Condensed.

Washington Post.

No senator shall be appointed an election deputy marshal; all shall be republicans. The federal judges shall not appoint these deputies, but they shall be selected by the radical campaign managers and commissioned by the attorney-general. There shall be no character, nor have historians appointed them, than any party radicals, and we may want more of their sort. This is the condensed English of Mr. Hayes's veto.

The Stewarts Tranquill.

The Washington stewart and third-term supporters are not all disturbed by Grant's unorthodox speeches for $200,000,000 in state bonds, and it perfectly, they say, it is a shrewd thing to do, and was a part of the programme agreed upon before he started. The Chicago Tribune is authority for this tribute of Grant's sincerity.

SAVAGE PRIZE FIGHT.

A Woman in the Ring & A Draw Battle.

NEW YORK, May 8.—A Scranton, Pa., special give the particulars of a prize fight which took place near the city limits yesterday between Dave Richards and his wife, and was witnessed by about 1,000 spectators, including members of the police and select council, the heights around being black with men and boys. Richards is 28 years old and 159 pounds weight while Thomas is 24 years old and weighs 140 pounds. Twenty seconds were fought, the spectators cheering lustily. The third round was fiercely fought, and ended in both falling heavily to the ground and pummeling each other vigorously where they lay, until picked up by their seconds. Their faces were badly disfigured on coming to the ring for the fourth round, so that the wife of Richards appeared upon the scene, with her sleeves rolled high up on her arms, and, breaking through the crowd, she forced her way into the ring and exclaimed, "Go for him, Dave, my boy! The result of this encouraging word was that Dave's antagonist fell with the last effort of his strength. At the end of the twenty-seventh round, the combatants, who were scarcely able to stand, were separated by their friends in the crowd. Richards appeared to have the best of it, although it was declared a drawn battle, and will fought out again at an early date. The stakes were said to be $100 a side.

HOUSE.

Tucker, of Virginia, from Committee on Ways and Means, reported the following bills which were referred to the Committee of the Whole: To regulate duties on hoop band and scroll iron. To regulate custom duties on sugar. To regulate custom duties on certain articles, and therein.

Garfield, of Ohio, submitted a report of the minority upon the bill to regulate the duties on hoop, band and scroll iron. Ordered to be printed.

The House Committee on Commerce decided to-day to make an effort to secure the passage of the sugar bill. Monday evening, after suspension of the rules, the Committee instructed Representative McLane to report favorably to the House a bill appropriating $100,000 for a marine hospital at New Orleans.

The Committee on Ways and Means to-day took up the concurrent resolution referred to them which provides for adjournment on the 24th of May. Phelps offered as a substitute that Congress adjourn on the 31st of May. On motion the consideration of the question was assigned for Thursday next when a vote will be taken on the motion to adjourn. The Committee will agree to report to the House. The Committee agreed to take action upon Gibson's income tax bill on Thursday and instructed Tucker to report to the House the sugar bill and general tariff bill, giving priority to the former.

On the 24th of May, in the Cincinnati-Yocum election case from Pennsylvania, and after a short debate adopted, by a vote of 113 to 75, the minority resolution declaring the sitting member Yocum, who is Greenbacker, entitled to his seat.

The legislative executive was presented to-day from the Appropriation Committee, and the House went into Committee of the Whole for its consideration. Akin made a short explanation of the bill. The bill was then read by sections for amendments. A number of amendments proposing to strike out the names of members of Congress were offered but all were rejected, and without having made any changes in the bill, the committee rose and the House took a recess until 7:30, the evening session to be for the consideration of the steamboat bill.

Cool Operations of Masked Robbers on Staten Island.

The wealthy residents of the north shore of Staten Island are becoming increasingly apprehensive, as many have been committed there of late. Messrs. Souter, Bailey, Holycross, Shaw and Curis have employed private watchmen at night. The large house

MIDNIGHT MISSILES.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY NEWS.

Terrible Tornado in Illinois—Settlement of Claims of Frenchmen for Damage From Late Civil War in United States—Miscellaneous Telegrams.

CHICAGO, May 11th.—Heavy rain accompanied by wind visited a large section of the State Sunday. A Tribune special says the thriving village of Olsey, near Winchester, Scott Co. was nearly destroyed by the fearful wind Sunday evening. There was a cool, burst and terrific rain, during and lightning just before the catastrophe. The wind took a narrow path and demolished everything in its way, but lasted only three minutes. Twenty buildings either totally or partly destroyed; no lives lost. A fearful cyclone swept across the eastern part of McLean County Sunday night, damaging property at least 100,000 dollars. Arrowsmith township twelve dwellings were utterly demolished and a 100 acre orchard totally destroyed. In Empire township the damage was very great spread and many trees injured.

Selling French Claims.

PARIS, May 11.—In Chamber of Deputies yesterday the draught of the Convention of January 15th, 1861, was almost passed without objection. The members of the chamber voted to talk with any person about the occurrence, and the police also were trying to keep the matter quiet. What the robbers carried away with them could not be ascertained.

Oleomargarine vs. Butter.

Wilmington Review.

A gentleman of this city, having heard much of oleomargarine, concluded to give the "blasted" thing a trial. He purchased a few pounds of it and a pound or two of butter and sent both to his wife, thinking he had sent up table and cooking butter, put them in the kitchen and the wife, supposing it was butter, said, "What is this? She was in blissful ignorance of what she was eating, and when told it was oleomargarine, she remarked that it was not so but if it was she didn't want any more butter.

Fight With Victorians Band.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11th.—A dispatch from Theon says Victoria lost 11 of his band, killed in the recent fight with Cromer. The latter lost Sergeant Koenig. The band was left to stand by their parents. The father and mother, Richard and Ellen Watkins, occupied rooms in the tenement house, 47 Hudson street. About three weeks ago, Mrs. Watkins, who was given to the use of intoxicating liquor, went away, leaving her husband and her two sons, who are at present unknown. Eight days ago the father, who is a longshoreman, but present out of work, sold every article of furniture and property he possessed and went away, leaving Richard and Charlotte and Emma, another child of 11, to shift for themselves.

Three days ago Emma went away to her aunt's it is supposed, and since then Richard and Charlotte have slept on the bare boards in the empty room. The neighbors reported the matter to the S. P. C. C., and Officer Chiardi found the two little ones without food and clothes, with but a few rags on their persons.

The neighbors told of the desertion of the children and how they would have starved had they not given them food from their own scanty stores. Both the children had a pinched, hunger-stricken look, and the face of the younger girl, kindly cared for by the officer of the society, and today Justice Murray sent them to St. Joseph's Asylum. It is said that Watkins used to work for the Old Dominion steamship line, but the head stevedore said he had not seen him for a week or more. The police have been notified to look out for the inhuman father.

The Fire Blend.

MILFORD, PA., May 11th.—Forest fires commenced to break out again in this section last night, and large fires visible from here in New Jersey. The woods were fired by persons and a large damage resulted. Reward offered for the arrest of incendiaries.

National Board of Health.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11th.—The annual meeting of the Board of Health closed to-day. Present officers re-elected. Resolution adopted urging the Department of Agriculture to prohibit the importation of smallpox and other diseases into the United States ports to prevent the introduction of smallpox and other diseases into several States, and directing the Ex-Commissioner to ascertain from quarantine authorities what extent of quarantine regulations are now in existence, and to adopt such measures as will accomplish the object referred to. The Executive Commission are now engaged in considering the means and measures to prevent the spread of infectious diseases.

Fairbanks' Scandals in Australia.

The Australian mail received this morning contains the following from the "Sydney Evening Press," of March 17. "The Fairbanks' Family." George Fairbanks and family, from New York and London, have taken all before them with their collective exhibits of seals. The Judges state that, in view of the many practical advantages which these seals possess over any and all exhibited, and as collective exhibits showing the perfect genuines of family they recommend a distinctive diploma or medal to that firm in addition to what would be simply a first-class award."

At this Exposition, Fairbanks & Co., met in competition scale manufacturers from the United States Great Britain, France, and elsewhere, the testimonial of their skill and power.

Their tent between Wallace and Randall is very much like a marriage brought about by a threat of breach of promise proceedings.

The Greenbacks Must Go.

Boston Advertiser.

The payments on ordinary account during April were $11,200,000; the import of gold was $1,000,000, and the reduction of the debt was twelve millions. Accordingly the receipts must have been above thirty million dollars. No opportunity should be lost, where the revenues are so abundant, and when every requirement of the sinking fund has been more than met, to increase the amount to be paid out to diminish the amount of legal-tender notes outstanding. A constant addition is made to the coinage. The value of gold coined during April was almost seven millions. This money can be kept, if we will. It will be lost inevitably if it is not made a necessity by gradually abolishing legal-tender paper.

Blaine and the New York Delegation.

Utica Herald.

In 1876, Blaine received on the first ballot at Cincinnati 123 votes from the States which have already chosen their delegates to Chicago. His friends who are attending to the details of his campaign have now 178 votes from these same States. The likelihood of getting 124 more would secure his nomination in convention, and would nominate him on the first ballot. It is now clear that his friends on the New York delegation can render his election certain, if they will be bold and positive in accordance with the wishes of their constituents.

Closeted Juries.

For instance, May 11th.—Among the juries selected Friday for the May term of the city and State courts were two colored men, being the first time men of that color been put on juries in the city courts. One Jas. A. Harris was drawn on the petit jury of criminal court and Wm. W. T. Tilden on the grand jury. Harris is a well known caterer on Vessel's port in the store. Letter on being accepted as a juror remarked that he felt pride in being the first of his race to serve on the jury in that court and that he would preserve the summons to his death, and to his children. In the United States Courts in the city colored men have served on juries for several years.

Formation of Rain and Hail.

When the particles of water or ice which constitute a cloud or fog are all of the same size, and the air in which they are sustained is at rest, no snow or sleet will fall. If the air moves, however, the particles will have different velocities relative to each other. The weight of these particles will cause them to descend through the air with velocities which depend on their diameters, and since they are all of the same size, they will move at the same velocity. Under these circumstances, therefore, the particles will not traverse the spaces which separate them and there can be no aggregation of them to form raindrops or hailstones.

Children Boys and Youth suits from $1.50 up, at

If however, some of the particles of the cloud or fog attain a larger size than others, those will descend faster than the others and will consequently overspread those immediately beneath them; with these they may combine so as to form still larger particles which will increase in size rapidly, and will quickly overtake the particles in front of them, and will increase in rate as they add to their size. Under such circumstances, therefore, the cloud will be converted into rain or sleet, according as the particles were ice or water. The size of the drops from which the rain or sleet falls depends simply on the quantity of water suspended in the space swept through by the drop in its decent, that is to say, on the density and thickness of the cloud below the point from which the drop started. This is the actual way in which raindrops and haildrops are formed.

HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, N. C., May 7th, 1880.—Our town is quiet, nothing of a very interesting nature locally speaking, to write about. The political wave has struck our people. I believe the people of this county are for Judge Fowle for Governor, and Col. Thos. Holt for Lieutenant-Governor. It has been my pleasure to meet many of the most reliable gentlemen from not only this but several other counties recently. Their almost unanimous statement is that the people are for Fowle and Holt. Judge Fowle will make a better and stronger canvas than any other man in the State. Col. Holt is not only a farmer and a manufacturer as well, but our State Fair is to-day due to Col. Holt's patriotic and indomitable energy. Col. Holt is a good man, and carries the hearts and confidence of his hearers with him whenever he addresses an audience. He is a man of large means, and but just in the prime of a vigorous manhood. He has faithfully and creditably represented his constituents in the State Senate. He is a dignified gentleman, and will make a strong case over the State with a dignity and justness which will reflect credit upon himself and State. The coming canvas will be a warm one. The vitality of either party is almost at stake, this is to say, it is almost a question of life and death.

WE are glad to know that our farmers are making extraordinary exertions for a big crop, both of corn and cotton, the present year. During a recent trip through the finest farming section of Eastern Carolina, it was our pleasure to meet many of the best farmers in the State. They were buoyantly hopeful over the crop prospects. They said the farming interests was much farther advanced than at this time last year. We never saw farms in better condition for making a crop. We are glad to see the farmers, the main-stay and backbone of the country, awakening from the Rip Van Winkleism of which we are sorry to say they have been so long possessed. The prosperity and success of all trades and professions hinge upon that of the farmers. The pulsations of the farming interests permeates and influences all others. Our farmers are also turning their attention more and more to stock raising. Let PROGRESSION be the farmers' watch-word and will be well.

THE STATE Medical Convention convened at the City of Wilmington on yesterday. One hundred delegate are expected to be present.

The Examining Board is composed of Doctors P. E. Hines of Raleigh, Geo. L. Birby, of Goldsboro, Joseph Graham of Charlotte, R. I. Hicks, of Granville, Thos F. Wood, of Wilmington, H. T. Bahnson, of Salem and Haigh of Fayetteville.

The following named gentlemen were before the board yesterday. Doctors V. S. McElroy, L. M. Powers, K. L. Powers, A. Hassell, Rich Dillard, Jr., John T. Schowall, W. C. Jalloway, J. M. Stanfill, R. H. Adam, L. W. Hunter, and S. J. Montague. From fifteen to twenty more were expected yesterday. At 11 o'clock yesterday the delegates assembled at the Opera House and the convention was called to order by the President, Dr. J. F. Shaffner and opened with a prayer by the Rev C. M. Payne M. D. Dr. W. H. Bellomy then delivered the address of welcome. The regular annual address will be delivered at the Opera House to-day by Dr. Eugene Grisom, of Raleigh.

A GOODLY number of Senators and Representatives including Zeb Vance

"done up" Norfolk and Portsmouth on Saturday last. Wonder if Senator Vance didn't get some of his jokes off on the party.

THE whole Deni-Kearney gang are coming to grief. Mayor Kallock, it is said will soon be with his confederate in rascality and crimes, the notorious Kearney, within the walls of a Calisto prison.

We congratulate the San Franciscans on their ridance of these turbulent society-destroying villains.

WORK on the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad is being vigorously pushed forward.

WHO the new Post Master General will be, is giving the politicians much trouble.

It is thought that James E. Bo d' Esq. will succeed Col. V. S. Lusk for U.S. Attorney for the Western District of North Carolina.

THE N. Y. Tribune puts it thus: of the 600 delegates elected so far to the Chicago Convention: Blaine 241, Grant 224, Sherman 91, Edmunds 81, Washburne 12. Necessary to a choice 379.

COL. W. A. GRAHAM is prominently mentioned for Congress from the Charlotte District, Col. Graham is the son of Gov. W. A. Graham, and is a man every inch of him.

JUDGE FOWLE's address at Greensboro Memorial celebration on Monday last was a most beautiful tribute to the Confederate dead. The Judge sustained his deserved reputation as a "silver tongued orator."

In the French Chamber of Deputies Monday, a draft of the Convention of Jan. 15th between the United States and French subject, during the civil war in this country, was introduced and voted urgent.

SEVENTY-SIX seats in the Chicago National Republican Convention are asked for by female delegates from the various woman suffrage associations. Let them "wipe off their chins, pull down their veils" and be seated by all means.

WE WOULD rather fight forty out and outs than one would-be-independent so-called Democrat. They are less dangerous to the party. There are but two parties, and a man must be of one or the other.

THE time is fast approaching when the Democratic ranks should be closed. The Republican party owes its success to keeping its ranks well closed. A Republican split is always a solid one when election time comes. Did any party ever accomplish anything by dissensions and quarreling? This has ever been the bane of the Democracy, will we never learn anything?

A Correspondent from Franklinton asks us if we can say anything for Col. Walter Clark for attorney General and Randolph A. Shotwell for Auditor. We have already expressed ourself as being fully in favor of Shotwell, but as to Clark we have not said anything though we will say that he would make a good officer. At the same time we've no fault to find of Col. Kenan, the present incumbent.

THE Kinston Journal of recent date contained an editorial cens. ry and calling for the impeachment of Judge Avery, for his action in continuing all the civil suits in the late Lenoir Superior Court, over which he presided—at a meeting of the bar, a communication was sent to the Goldsboro Messenger which closes as follows.

"We fail to find impeachable matter in this, and feel satisfied that the associates of the Journal editor in Rouse vs. Joyner, do not participate in the sentiments expressed to the Journal article. Mr. Harper's professional zeal has caused him, unintentionally no doubt, to do a great injustice to a courteous gentleman an estimable citizen, and to prefer a grave and unfounded charge against a laborious, upright judge."

Cuticura

REMEDIES
have Achieved the most noted success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter have never doubted the success of Cuticura, and Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Soon, for the speedy, permanent, and economical cure of Ulcers of the Bladder, Skin and Nerves. They are however, not at their universal success; for it was to be expected that in the hands of some they would bring from spasmodic or ignorant use of them.

They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction that no remedies ever equalled the importance of Cuticura in the number of wonderful cures performed by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SALT RAHUM,

Covering the Body for Ten Years.
Permanently Cured.

LAW OFFICES OF CHARLES HUGHTON,
17 Congress St., Boston, Feb. 25, 1852.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter, Gt. Brit., I feel it a duty to inform you, and through you all who are interested to know the fact, that the distinguished obstinate curer of Rheumatism, Skin and Nerves, Cuticura, has been under my personal observation from its first appearance to the present time, and I can assure you that the portion of the patient's body, and limbs with its peculiar irritations and itching sores, to which all the known methods of treatment have been applied, without benefit, has completely disappeared, leaving a clean and healthy skin, under the most profuse application of
CUTICURA.

I can and do heartily advise all similarly affected to try the remedy which has been so effectual in this case.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES HUGHTON.

soultent. 5-12 pounds on
One Bottle.

GENTLEMEN.—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with running sores on the side of my neck, for ten years. Doctors did not get me well, until I began to take the Cuticura Remedy, which I did, and my distress was relieved. I got reduced from 140 to 132 pounds. As last tried the assistance of a physician, who told me to take a glass of water and one-half pound, it is doing the business, and going for strong.

JOHN D. COY

cases of extreme physical weakness, or when the virus of Scrofula is known to be in the system, by the internal use of the Cuticura Remedy, with the best results. It is also a valuable aid in treating all kinds of Skin and Nerve Complaints.

Cuticura is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistance to Cuticura and the treatment of all external ailments. For shapped heads, rough skin and burns, and all other complaints, it is indispensible as a soap for the toilet, the wash-tub bath it is the most elegant, refreshing and comfortable article.

are here together in use, because they possess new and original properties never before known in medicine.

get ready! A certain young man of this city is expected to appreciate this

—A pretty style of hair-dressing for the matronly and fashionable woman name is to "wave at the hair." We agree with the above. In the morning has reposed all night, and "wave" it across the room to chase out the flies.

—In yesterday's News appeared a communication in regard to a trap-man Sexton, being one of those who did not attend the caucus Monday

from other circumstances—has therefore been attributed to him.

From the conversation had with Mr.
Sexton, the Reporter is satisfied that Mr. Sexton is no bolter!

discussion until a late hour the re-

of Raleigh will be requested to give their advertising cards to aid the work.
Plans are now being made to promote gentlemen out of the city who may desire to be represented.

There is abundant promise of a successful Fair. Owners of horses are already proposing to send them here for training on the track, which is undergoing repair and improvement.

Police Court.

As the Reporter entered the Mayoror's office yesterday through one door an officer made his appearance through another, leading a seedy looking young man with a forlorn expression. He was a stranger, he said. He looked thirty, too, and as he entered the door he could see that his hair was uncombed and unbrushed, his hands dirty and his face and eyes black and bloody.

Hon. Enquirer enquired if he was blind, and was assured by the seedy young man that he was "only bunged up a little."

The officers then preferred the charge of "drunk and down" against him and remarked, by way of parenthesis, to his Honor, that when he took him in he was trying to butt the post-office down.

"You see it was kinder this way, yer honor, if I fell in with the police, they'd take me in, I expect out in the morning to win a bit, but I had taken with a fellow, that I could, I might, take a drink at every bar-room in town before I went to bed
at night."

Well about dark I was getting pretty full up, but, I say, I never had such a full up as I'll have you through, I had just struck the street just back of us here," he resumed, pointing in the direction of Wilmington street, "I thought by the time I finished that one up I would be about through; but I never finished it, and then I thought I would have more than five six more. So congratulating myself upon the happy termination of my experiment, I boldly entered the first one; I took my drink and as I was about leaving to hump up saloon No. 2, it occurred to me to ask the bar-keeper how many of our bar rooms there were on that street."

His Honor cast a significant glance at the young stranger's black eyes and peeled head.

Yes, he said, in reply, as he replied:
